

WE NOMINATE

Three Princeton space scientists — Robert Emil Danielson, Harry Hammond Hess and Roman Smoluchowski — who are among the 23 eminent Americans advocating the immediate implementation of a major program for the unmanned exploration of the farthest reaches of the solar system. Their report envisages unmanned flights to pass Pluto (the Sun's most remote planet), at least two "grand tour missions" passing close to several of the outer planets in long continuous flights lasting several years, and unmanned probes of asteroids and perhaps even Halley's Comet.

On the basis of the fantastically successful Apollo 11 Mission, the Princetonians and their associates recommend that the National Aeronautics and Space Administration give Congress a long-term plan for the exploration of the solar system farther out than Mars as part of the space agency's budget presentation for 1971. Among the scientific issues the flights would help to resolve would be the origin of the universe, the origin of life and the behavior and dynamics of earth's own atmosphere.

The 37-year old Danielson, a native of Box River, Minnesota, and a Princetonian for the past decade, has performed both observational and theoretical studies in the fields of planetary and solar physics. His role in the University's Stratoscope I and II programs, and his studies in examining the feasibility of a 40-inch manned orbiting astronomical observatory, have led to important discoveries regarding the structure of sunspots, the infra-red properties of the moon and the composition and structure of Jupiter's atmosphere. The Stratoscope programs, involving balloon-borne telescopes, have been undertaken to escape the blurring effects caused by the turbulence in the earth's atmosphere.

Chairman of the Space Science Board of the National Academy of Sciences, who devoted four years to planning the scientific missions made possible by Apollo 11, Hess, 63 years old, has research interests ranging from space exploration to the study of the interior of the earth. Internationally known researcher, adviser to the Federal Government and active in the affairs of a dozen different professional societies, he has been a member of the University's Department of Geology since 1931 and was its chairman from 1950 until 1966, the year he received the $32,000 Feltrinelli Award in his field, including the $32,000 Feltrinelli Award of the Accademia dei Lincei, Italy. Here next month Hess and his associates will be investigating part of the lunar sample Apollo 11 brought home at the end of the history-making voyage.

The Polish-born Smoluchowski, a member of the University Faculty since 1960 and specialist in solid state sciences, is a free-wheeling individualist whose interests embrace aspects of the physics of planets and of the moon as well as biomaterials and biophysical effects similar to certain solid-state phenomena. A member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, he directs a cooperative program of the Departments of Aerospace and Mechanical Sciences, Electrical Engineering, and Physics on the theoretical and experimental aspects of solid state.

For emphasizing that the opportunities of the mid-1970's should not be wasted in that they will not reappear again for some 180 years; for underscoring the far-reaching benefits in the development of American technology as well as major scientific advances inherent in their recommendations, for envisioning planetary explorations of inestimable value to mankind on earth; they are our nominees as

This Is Princeton

THE LONG, WET SUMMER

Kids Don't Mind. Last week we sent out favorite things out, it had tides higher than the Bay of Fundy and the Champion Hurdle Finalists were sitting glumly, chin in hand, wondering if the season would ever dry.

Princeton's kids have at most been rained out this summer. That Tournament of Champions at the Harrison Street playground made half way through until it was drowned last Friday afternoon.

Monday, those horseshoe pits were flooded, and sloppy weather is bad for horseshoe pitchers because you can lose your footing in the mud. So last we heard, the second half of the Tournament will probably be held this Friday.

Weather, as they say, per mitting.

This summer, 1,220 kids have signed up for Princeton's playground program in 11 scattered playground sites, hundred youngsters are scheduled to hop the bus for the August 15. The Champions not only check huckey, ping pong and chess, and we could say out a checkers.

Little League, on the other hand, have had a great summer for some reason. Boys and Thursdays have been a great sort of, and those are the days Little League plays.

Paul? Wet. Swimming is a good story. And tennis. If Donald Barr, Recreation Director, shakes his head as though to free the water from his ears. "Here at the Community pool," he estimates, "we've got to make $4,000 before the season ends September 9. We need three weeks of really good weather."

A couple of months ago, he points out, "no trouble. But people aren't buying season subscriptions any more, and daily admissions are all we can count on."

The pool will be open until the end of the day Sunday, September 7. After that, the public schools take over until mid October with free swimming lessons for sixth graders.

Gershup and chaperone by the Princeton Recreation Department.

The last trip was to Shea Stadium, and Mr. Barr was posed on that diving board for a long time. To cancel or not to cancel? Would the game be rained out or wouldn't it? Gambling all the way, the Rec. Department decided to go ahead and of course, it was a wonderful bus trip and a wonderful game and the fun for so kids had a wonderful time.

Hand-work. Besides baseball trips, zoo excursions and such stern disciplines as ping pong tournaments, the 1,220 playground enrollees have arts and crafts, music, and just play around.

Lots of the boys and girls go only for the crafts, Mr. Barr says. This is Mrs. Janet Klein, who owns the playground with her happy idea about what to make today.

Dances? Well, the Old members of the community have been turning away from the teen dances that were such a success in other years. Still shaking his head, Mr. Barr warns that the Friday dance is a fizzle, he may cancel the first of the season.

Those teen dances just got so popular this year, he explains. We've got the Youth Set for this Friday, and they're good but. Last year, for example, we had 500 kids each week. This year, we've had only a couple of hundred. Of course we've been rained out some times.

Each dance costs over $200 when you figure $125 for the band plus the pay for a uniformed, off duty policeman.

A great 1968 success for teens and older has been the indoor basketball Monday through Thursday nights at Princeton High under Larry Ivan. More than 100 boys signed up for this and, of course, no rain outs.

Sunny Ball. "Unbelievable!" exclaimed Mrs. Lewis Kraft, about the weather. Mrs. Kraft found her Community Tennis Program under water more often than she wants to think.

But makeup classes are gladly going along, and even people who were washed away in early July can still take a makeup class.

Mrs. Kraft is particularly excited about the 30 young stars who are learning tennis under the Youth Tennis Foundation. Solicitation among the community produced enough money to give full tennis.

The Inside Story OF THE PART YOU PLAYED To Reach The Moon

by A. N. SPANEL

FOUNDER International Latex Corporation

My friends, ladies and gentlemen, most of you know the great role that your Company played in that colossal of all human achievements in placing two American astronauts on the surface of the moon for the glory of civilization and humanity.

What all of you may not know, is the inside story behind your Company's historic role in the development and production of the Apollo suits for our astronauts. I therefore consider it the greatest privilege of my life as the founder of your Company to present it to you, now.

In the year 1949 my wife and I met a brilliant young man who agreed to construct for our home in Princeton, New Jersey, a special radio and hi-fi record player, and a wonderful instrument it was! Most of you either know him or of him, for I hired Lenny Shepard in 1949 as a research and development engineer, and I can tell you that from the very beginning he displayed the brilliant talents that made him an outstanding part of our Company's technology. He is a man of dimension.

It was not long after Shepard joined us that we began to develop an advanced, scientific helmet for our high altitude fliers, and because of that splendid technology, your Company was favored by the U.S. Air Force with contract after contract for them.

In the late 50's we received a $250,000 contract for the development of a high altitude pressure suit for the U.S. Air Force.

But by 1960 we ran into trouble, for in that year we lost 700,000 dollars. As a matter of fact, from the middle of 1957 to 1960 we had lost about 2 million dollars, and this was due to the fact that we were taking contracts for stilted items from the War Department, and these were items that most any clothing manufacturer could and did produce at prices so low that we lost our shirts trying to compete with them; hence the 2 million dollar loss.

It was at this time that it was decided to put Irving Obrow our Treasurer, in complete charge of this Division. Instead of liquidating it altogether as was repeatedly suggested at Stanley Warner meetings notwithstanding the fact that I had personally planned the organization of this Division after World War II because of my conviction that 10 percent of our business activities should always be directed to production in Defense Work; thus instead of liquidating it, Irv Obrow immediately dropped all Government contracts for stilted goods. What he did, however, was to save our entire Research and Development Group, and began to seek Government contracts where the science and technology we possessed could be harnessed. It was a brilliant effort as you will see.

You will recall that by now we had become expert in producing complicated high altitude helmets; and the pressured develop for the U.S. Air Force; succeeded so well that in 1962 your Company was awarded a development contract from NASA, a contract that we won against all competition as you are all aware. NASA needed a sophisticated, scientifically developed environmental suit for its Apollo project and in choosing our Company they confirmed Irving Obrow's sound judgment when he decided to use our scientific capabilities and development talents to engage in projects that needed these technological skills.

Time has also proved how great NASA's confidence was in us and in our people. Lenny Shepard heads the technical team on the Apollo spacesuit project.

In May of 1964 Irving Obrow told me of a most unusual man whom he had interviewed to help him with that fast growing and exciting Division; for you must remember that Obrow was also carrying on his full time duties as Treasurer of International Latex Corporation. The two jobs were breaking his back. Therefore when he described Dr. Finkelstein to me and enthusiastically detailed his wonderful scientific background and achievements with such giant concerns as General Dynamics and the Bausch and Lomb Company, I knew that in his mind Obrow had already made the decision to bring Dr. Finkelstein into the ILC family no matter what the cost would be.

And so it was that Dr. Finkelstein joined us; and a very happy day it was for our Company and for all of us. For here was a man who was not only a scientist of the first rank, but one who believed in people working together, above all else.

From the very first day the men and women around him saw in him a man who was at once a leader and a friend. They were equally impressed with Dr. Finkelstein's expressed enthusiasm for and reliance on our traditional ways of treating people, our editorial presentations in the public interest, and our ways of doing business.

In 1966 Dr. Finkelstein became the President of his Division, ILC Industries.

Since then, his scientific talents, his sense of leadership and organization in which every man and woman in his Company in his own words "are my partners" have given growth and a portentous future to the Company.

All these efforts and talents and Dr. Finkelstein's great and respected leadership, my friends, have resulted in your Company playing a never-to-be-forgotten role in the incredible, hard to believe, yet colossal achievement of placing our men on the moon (in the Apollo suits your Company developed and made) for the everlasting glory of civilization and all humanity.

Dr. Finkelstein told me yesterday that it was his people who made our historic part possible; and he meant every word of it. I therefore implore you to always remember that there is now a little of each one of you on that moon and the glory of God that made it possible.

For myself, dear friends, I am grateful beyond expression that I am here as the founder of your Company, and privileged to describe the basis of the very real presence of a bit of each of you on the moon.

fore the commissioner and no action has been taken," according to a spokesman for Mr. Marburger.

Mr. Male wants certification clearance so he can be principal of Princeton High School. He was the top choice of the Princeton Regional Board of Education for the PHS position but he was denied certification clearance by the state Board of Examiners because he lacks the requirements for a principal's certificate.

After Mr. Male's appeal last week, a spokesman for Mr. Marburger said the commissioner will try to disqualify himself from hearing the appeal because he is head of the Board of Examiners and is on public record as supporting Mr. Male.

The Princeton school board has taken no action since the state's Board of Examiners voted 7-2 in June against giving Mr. Male the standard administrative certificate.

Probably the Princeton board won't decide one way or another about appealing on its own until board members come back from vacations and a full nine member board is on hand, according to William Evans, board secretary.

According to procedure, Mr. Marburger as commissioner would hear Mr. Male's appeal and make a decision, which would then go to the State Board of Education for final approval.

If state legal experts say Mr. Marburger can indeed disqualify himself, the appeal might be heard by someone appointed by the state Board of Education to take Mr. Marburger's place, or it could be heard by the Law Committee of the state Board of Education.

The New Jersey Education Association opposed certification for Mr. Male before the Board of Examiners and will probably continue in opposition, according to Donald Rosser, of the NJEA.

Mr. Male and Mr. Marburger are fellow members of Governor Richard Hughes' cabinet. Mr. Male is Commissioner of Labor and Industry, and would have $28,000

Committee is thinking of buying a $7,500 Bombardier SM 48 snow remover. Acting Mayor William L. Wilson — Mayor John D. Wallace is on vacation — says a Bombardier owned by Garden City, Long Island, sweeps 20 miles of side walk in a single day.

Mr. Wilson suggested that a property owner might not object so much to a new sidewalk if he knew he didn't have to clear off all the snow. The acting mayor also cited elder home-owners, women whose husbands are out of town during blizzards, and the scarcity of small boys who want to earn a dollar.

"If the municipality clears the snow from the roads in front of a man's house, why not from the sidewalks?" Mr. Wilson asked.

"The present situation imposes a real hardship," added Committeeman Harry J. Volwieder. "We require a home owner to pay part of the cost of a sidewalk he may not want, then fine him if he

Well, it's over, the Man thinks. Clearing skies, rising temperatures, higher humidity — but no more rain for a while. That's what he says, anyway.

Doesn't clear off the snow I'm all for giving it a try."

But Committeeman James A. Floyd raised questions. Who is liable, if the new blow rip shovels or if somebody broke a leg on a Bombardier swept walk. Assistant clerk Michael Zaas said the Township's insurance firm can handle the new liability for an additional $150 a year.

When Mr. Wilson said the Bombardier would help the schools with their snow problems, Mr. Floyd asked about priorities: does the school get shoveled out first, or the home owner's sidewalk?

Mr. Wilson replied hastily that Committee hasn't promised the schools anything about snow removal and indeed hasn't even negotiated the problem.

Bids for Township projects keep coming in high. A pair of bids for work on Alexander Street were $7,000 higher than estimates made by form er Township Engineer Frank Quinby.

Joseph Castoro bid $17,638 and Kingston Trap Rock bid $9,249. Mr. Quinby had estimated $12,960.

Mr. Volwieder pointed out that the estimate was made last April or May, and that inflation keeps pushing prices up. Committee rejected both bid and will re-advertise. Acting Engineer Joseph Hodak was asked to see if he can find additional bidders on the project.

Governor Richard Hughes and Mrs. Hughes have decided not to build a Princeton house at the corner of Winfield Road and The Great Road, so Hunt and Augustine, owner of the lot, have withdrawn their request for a special road agreement. For more on the Hughes' decision, see page 18.)

INTIME'S FINAL DRAMA
"Heartbreak House" Well Done. The final production of Summer Intime's 1969 season, "Heartbreak House" by George Bernard Shaw, is re-perio theater at its most valuable a presentation of drama that we are not likely to see often, and presenting it well. The production concludes the season during the weekend of August 14-16 at Murray Theatre, concluding also a summer of consistently expanding richness.

Shaw's allegory was written during the First World War. Its application was to a world enmeshed in absurdity and nightmare. It still applies. Heartbreak House is house turned ship turned asylum where the deluded are treated by the searing ministrations of truth. It is an isolated world, presided over almost pagonistically by senile Captain Shotover.

Much like "The Tempest," this is a fantastic and isolated world that gives us perspective on the mainland. And Shotover is in Prospero-like control over his shipshape house; he is the captain on a sea of heartbreak. In order to achieve a return, an escape in to the other world, the characters must survive the painful separation from illusion.

Heartbreak House is a world to be escaped because its truth is a kind of lunatic fondness, a disorder that ridicules what is ultimately most ridiculous, the world at large.

Blind and Brutal. All that

THE SHAVIAN TOUCH: "Heartbreak House" is the Shaw in town for August. Here, in Summer Intime's production, are Giulia Pizarro as Lady Utterword and Robert Rockwell as Hector Hushabye.

is not Heartbreak House is the orderly world as we know it, blind and brutal. From that world the gathering of inhabitants brings vestiges of the world's symptoms: greed, jealousy, falsehood, blind and unknowing faith, vanity and illusion. All that is within Heartbreak House is without predictable order: pain and joy are mixed, madness feeds wisdom, illusion insures the life of the real. Here the erratic leads straight to what is true.

This is a play for actors. Nothing wooden, nothing stereotyped will do, and this is perhaps its only weakness. The characters of the drama eventually overwhelm the drama itself. The memory of the brilliant exposition of characterizations in Act I becomes diffused as those characters lose brilliance, moving portentously through a philosophical adventure, ensnared by who they are and what the world is.

As the visitors to Heartbreak House gather on stage, the excellence of Director Brendan Burke's casting becomes obvious, especially to one who has enjoyed this company all season. Eric von Starck is the diabolical Captain Shotover, whose eyes are at once on the heavens and the hearts of men. With each production we have gladly seen more of him, and to each he has brought insight and style with precision.

Beverly Rogers as the captain's brilliantly witlike daughter is the ringmaster of his house. Her performance is full and strong. She is superb. John Vennema and Andrew Bloch are different here than we have seen them before, and they demonstrate their abilities to change with out being superficial. They are here proven to be facile actors.

Deborah Savage's well modulated Mary-Poppinessque naiveute and Giulia Pizarro's acid beauty fit perfectly. The former is entering the world of heartbreak to receive its blessing. The latter returns to that world to find that it has not changed. She is inured to its insanity, perhaps, because she was born to it.

Larry Strichman, Robert Rockwell, and Geoff Peterson are conscious and interesting actors. They are central to this play and project sensibilities that are vital to its worldness. (How difficult it is to differentiate within an excellent company!)

A Change of Face. Under the direction of Brendan Burke, the company has changed its face to meet the incisive nature of this play. He evokes precise performances which are difficult to sustain but which impress us by their clarity, particularly in a play that is difficult to control. Richard B. Williams has created a masterful set that is appropriately askew.

If you have ever wondered at a ship in a bottle, you will wonder at a ship in a theater. Both Mr. Burke and Mr. Williams have taken small spaces and filled them with large structures, and each has worked with obvious gifts.

Heartbreak, of course, is on life. It is something to learn, says Shaw. Learned, it becomes part of the substance by which man survives and without which he is abject. It is unlikely that "Heartbreak House" will be frequently seen, not because it is an obviously difficult play, but because it is a play that is difficult to see. —Continued On Next Page cause it is an obviously strange play, full of fantasy and oddity, yet clearly about the whole of man's survival. And this is only the most imminent reason for Murray Theatre to be filled with those who must feel the heart's fissures — all of us, I hope — during the last week of this summer season. David Carr

"THOUSAND DAYS" ENDS
This Weekend, "Anne of the Thousand Days," Maxwell Anderson's drama of Henry VIII and Anne Boleyn, will be given its final three performances this weekend by the company at Summer Intime. "Anne" will be given at 8:30 this Thursday, Friday and Saturday in Murray Theatre on campus. Tickets may be reserved between noon and 10 p.m. at 432-8181.

In "Anne of the Thousand Days," Anderson retells the story of England's king and the girl who lost her head because of him. Geoff Peterson portrays Henry VIII and Deborah Savage is Anne. The role of Cardinal Wolsey is being played by Eric Von Stark. Robert Rockwell is Thomas Cromwell, Giulia Pagan is Mary Boleyn and Andrew Bloch is Mark Smeaton. Larry Strichman is the director, and Richard B. Wilkin has done the sets.

"LOLITA" DUE
Last of Summer Series: Stanley Kubrick's filming of "Lolita," the Vladimir Nabokov novel, is to be the last of Summer Intime's summer films.

"Lolita" will be shown Monday at 8 p.m. in conjunction with McCormick Art Museum next in Murray Theatre on the University campus. Admission, at the door, is $1. The film, made in 1962, stars Sue Lyon as Lolita and James as Humbert Humbert. Peter Sellers and Shelley Longfill other roles.

"ENTER, LAUGHING"
In Trenton, A play about a stage-struck boy who wants to act on career and a ninth-er who has hysterical objections to the stage-struck boy's acting career, will be given next Thursday, August 14, at the Theatre in the Park, Cadwalader Park, Trenton.

"Enter, Laughing" is being given for the benefit of the Human Relations Council of Greater Trenton. Tickets, at $4, are available by mail from the Council at 142 West State, nr. at the box office.

Featured performers will be Minerva Davenport, Bill Parent, Irene Rosenberg, Michelle Deszarian and Alan Kaltz. Rain date is the following Thursday, August 21.

IT'S NEW To Us

WORRIED?

Try Pier 16. There's a farous miscellany at Pier 16, 256 Nassau, ranging from rattan "cobri" chairs to warped Pepsi bottle vases. It gives you the feeling of humorous forces at work to convince you that you shouldn't take life so seriously.

To help you confound the taker at the bank, Pier 16 has liquor bottle savings banks that hold five gallons of money.

If you are constantly remind yourself of this and that, Pier 16 has thick scratch pads in patent leather covers marked "ETC."

For hostile Republicans, there are dashboards that feature Hubert Humphrey iron chant, — a dart on the nose rates 100 points.

Bath crystals come in mason jars; candles in teardrop shapes, and there's a well clock with hands that sweep the face of yesterday's hero, Clark Gable.

There's campy stuff, such as posters by the million, Campbell Soup mugs, barbecue and bartender aprons loaded with slogans and advertisements (never waste space), and soft drink bottles pulled and twisted into two-foot vases for your favorite rose.

And to put an end to the old saw, "Name your own poison," Pier 16 has sets of 100 glassess labeled "Nitroglycerine," "Strychnine," "Paris Green," "Arsenic," and so on — all at 99c each. Gold lettering on black labels, of course.

The highhearted approach includes household furniture, such as inflatable chairs and hassocks. The best seller in this air furniture line is the two-piece blow-up chair. It's so comfortable that it is fantastic. There go so fast that you had better order ahead.

You'll also find among the furniture line handmade straight-back chairs with beautifully ly woven seats and rattan item that range from the high-backed chair that curves over your head like a hooded cobra to a large woven basket with a woven elephant's head as the lid.

For your tacos and tortillas, brown Mexican dishes, bowls, and odds and ends. Inexpensive and attractive.

And the kitchenware seems chosen with an eye for those who amuse themselves with gadgets or gourmet requirements. A chinese wok for fast cooking ($1.99); enamelware pots and pans from Czechoslovakia! handcarved cocktail picks from Portugal. And from France, such tools as oyster knives, julienne slicers, whisks, even apoon scissors — all up to about $1.50 in price.

There's the mingled fragrance of incense, bayberry soap and candles about Pier 16. Even a touch of nostalgia in the jars and jars of marvelous, old-fashioned stick candy.

THE ART OF THE POTTER
At Hidden Acres. Driving out Route 27, the Princeton Kingston Road, some day soon, we hope you'll stop in at the Hidden Acres Ceramic Studio to see that it wouldn't be hard at all to get a start on your Christmas present list.

We mean this in a do-it-yourself sense. Newcomers to the craft are especially welcomed by June Martin, who teaches the evening class held at the studio there.

a two week run Monday at the Bucks County Playhouse in New Hope, Pa. Originally starring Judy Holiday and Paul Douglas, the play holds the record as the fifth longest running play in Broadway history.

The play tells the hilarious story of Harry Brock, played here by Chet London, a hit movie star producer who, with his girl friend, Bille Dawn, the original dumb blonde, featuring Mary Jean Kurtz, comes to Washington to purchase some favorable legislation. Finding that his ex-girlfriend's companion is severely lacking in the social graces, the rough-necked scrap iron dealer decides to hire a tutor to smarten her up. To his dismay, he finds that a little learning is a dangerous thing as she falls in love with her teacher and walks out on him.

The Prince Street Players at WCBS-TV are continuing their children's shows at the Playhouse. The theatre company performs its original musical versions of children's tales each Thursday morning at 11. Future productions include "Snow White Goes West" on August 7 and "Alice in Wonderland" on August 14.

For tickets and information for all shows, call (215) 662-2011 or write Bucks County Playhouse, New Hope, Pa.

EDDY ARNOLD TO APPEAR at Waterloo Festival. Famous country folk singer Eddy Arnold will appear Saturday with his orchestra at the Waterloo Village Music Festival at Stanhope, N. J. A singer who has brought country music to millions of people all over the world, he will offer a varied program of some of his most popular and outstanding recordings which have reached the number of approximately 50 million.

Sharing the stage with Eddy Arnold will be the husband-wife lute-playing team of Bud and Cece Robinson who will present a cavalcade of dances from the 1920's to the 1960's. They have appeared on numerous TV variety shows, including Johnny Carson, Guy Lombardo, Jackie Kennedy and Steve Allen.

Next on the Waterloo schedule is "A Viennese Night" on Saturday evening August 21.

GARDEN & PRINCE

The Lion in Winter (now playing) The clash of two heroic characters, King Henry II of England and his queen, Eleanor of Aquitaine, makes brilliant drama out of fragments of distant history. Peter O'Toole and Katharine Hepburn are the magnificent, proud and royal pair who tower above their contemporaries and their times.

In the fierce love hate confrontations of Henry and Eleanor, expressed in stinging dialogue they goad, threaten, infuriate, denounce, tease and cajole one another — not only in an effort to secure the crown for their favorites, but also for the pure sport of it.

Eleanor has long been confined to Salisbury Castle for leading a rebellion against her husband. On special occasions, however, the overgrown uncle, and so, on Christmas of 1191, Eleanor joins Henry at Chinon where the aging monarch must choose a successor from three sons: Richard, Eleanor's favorite; Geoffrey, largely ignored by both parents, and John, the youngest, adored by Henry.

Also present are Henry's young mistress, Alianor, and her brother, the 18-year old Philip of France. The action moves with plots and counterplots by everyone. The film is memorable — bare, austere, real down to the mud and the chickens underfoot.

Ring of Bright Water (now playing) has a pristine and joyful charm that should win love all but the most jaded of moviegoers.

The story concerns the close attachment that develops between a 10-year-old boy in London and an otter he buys from a pet show on a whim. So great does his regard for the animal become that he quits his hum drum job and goes off to the Scottish Highlands to make a proper home for his carnivorous friend.

He finds an ancient cottage on a sea inlet, and life becomes a succession of peaceful days, full of hard work and gentle hazards. The young lady doctor and her dog John share most of their adventures, exploring the glorious countryside, with its shimmering "ring of bright water." In this setting, the antics of the two animals at play are delightful. There is a break in the happy idyll when the otter is accidentally killed. The matter is treated sensitively and there is comfort in the arrival of his family very shortly after.

The leads are played by Bill Travers and Virginia McKenna (Mrs. Travers in real life) who were also the stars of "Born Free." The color photography is unobtrusive in the best sense of the word.

CHIEF LOGAN PRESIDES

At The Logan Inn, Over in New Hope, Pa., right along the main drive, is the old Logan Inn (circa 1727) which has changed a great deal under the new owners, Carl Lutz and Arthur Sanders. The change is all for the better, especially if you enjoy antiques of the Victorian era and are in the mood to stay the weekend and explore the Inn and village.

Chief Logan, one of the great pieces of Early American folk art, still presides over the Inn's front lawn. Made in 1829, the chief is a bigger than life-size metal cult that im-mortalizes the Indian who swapped names with James Logan, secretary to William Penn.

The commanding feature of the flagstone dining and cock tail terrace at the rear is a Norwegian maple reputed to be well over 300 years old Martins here came in a family recipe requiring a 10 to 1 proportion, unless you ask for an extra dry.

The tavern inside was used by George Washington, according to one of his letters, as a meeting place with his officers. He described it as "the tavern near the Ferry."
The back bar is comparatively new, a century old piece from Bavaria which has been in Mr. Lutz's family. And a mong the collection of steins is "Gertrude," which is (vino is) nearly three feet tall.

Rare roebuck antlers, mounted on small wooden shields, pattern one wall, but the object that has to be seen to be believed is the life-size parrot made entirely of thousands of colored beads. There's a Victorian whatnot for you.

Most of the objects were owned by Mr. Lutz's grandparents. You'll see their hi-dal portrait in the front hall.
And in the double sitting room now papered in vibrant red damask, is a 1839 portrai-of the young Prince Albert a mong a number of 15th and 17th Century Italian paintings.
Here also is a painted wood en panel by Gerome, whose works are in the Louvre and the Hermitage.

The guest rooms, some new in the process of renewal, feature various eras. There is a great carved wooden bed in one, another has Mrs. Loes-er's brass bed. Made about 1690 for the wife of Frederic Loesser, the bed was displayed in his department store window where it caught the eye of Mr. Lutz's grandmother. She insisted, and poor Mrs.
Loesser had to wait until another bed could be made for her.

Mr. Sanders and Mr. Lutz will enjoy showing you through the Logan Inn. Don't hesitate to ask.

Youths were asked to leave the car, one attempted to hide a package of small tablets, allegedly LSD pills. They have been sent to the state police labs for analysis.

Charges against the owner and occupants of a Spring Street apartment where the youths told police they obtained the pills are pending, depending on the outcome of the lab reports. Lt. Michael Carney and Det. Proaccavio obtained a search warrant from Judge Theodore T. Tams Jr. and went to the apartment.

According to police, the owner, a woman, was away at the time in Atlantic City. Police said they found another girl in the apartment, about 20 or 21, who refused to say anything. After searching the apartment, police confiscated seven bottles of assorted medicines and drugs which they sent to police labs for identification.

The investigation began earlier that day when Township Ptl. Anthony Gaylord, while on car patrol, observed one of the three youths acting in a suspicious and stuporous manner on Lake Road near Washington Road. The trail led from there to Township police headquarters, to Princeton Hospital, to Spring Street,

Wednesday Program Begins the First Day of School

School starts Wednesday, September 3, for Princeton's public schools. The Wednesday afternoon program begins that day too, so every student will bounce back home again when lunch is over — shortly after 1 p.m.

Community participants — housewives, men who can take the afternoon off, people without children who nevertheless have an interest in schools — all are invited once again to join the program. Non-teachers employed by the schools — secretaries, cafeteria workers, janitors — are also urged to sign up. Call 924-3600 any weekday to register.

There will be no program in the schools this year for children of working mothers. The volunteers who ran the program last spring didn't think it met the need, and have recommended the use of professional agencies like the Y, instead.

Conceived last year by the teachers, the Wednesday Program has a dual purpose — professional self-improvement and a better school system for students and the community. During the weekly 90-minute Wednesday afternoon sessions last spring, teachers and citizens analyzed the social studies curriculum, explored ways to communicate with disadvantaged children, discussed the special problems of kindergarteners, and so on.

Participants themselves decide what projects to undertake; however, ground work preparations are being made over the summer by the program's new co-ordinator, Mrs. Elaine Solomon, who is a Middle School English teacher, and William Bux, who is a member of the high school's business education department.

"We'd like to hear from citizens about the ways they'd like to participate in the program," says Mrs. Solomon. The number again is 924-3600.

to their eventual arrest on Road has been charged by Ptl. Sub-out by Ptl. Gaylord and Ptl. Jerry Offredo.

It was a joint operation all the way," commented Detective Proaccavio. "We got nothing but cooperation from the township police and were glad to get it."

INN EMPLOYEE CHARGED
With Possession of Drug Tools, a former employee of the Princeton Inn was arrested last week after Township police conducted a search of its room at the Inn's dormitory, 113 Alexander Street.

Charged with possession of narcotic paraphernalia was Franklin L. Woolford, 21. He was released in $500 bail, await a hearing before Township Judge Burton Peskin.

Also arrested at the scene were three adults and one juvenile. They were brought to headquarters for questioning and later released. They were not charged.

Armed with a search warrant obtained from Judge Peskin, Lt. Frederick Porter led the raid. He was assisted by Sgt. Norman Servis, Detective Samuel Bianco, Detective Anthony Pinelli, and Patrolmen Anthony Gaylord, Jerry Offredo and Joseph Maraziti. According to Lt. Porter, the search of the suspect's room was conducted after police had observed a heavy flow of traffic of local youth in and out of that room.

Included in the material seized by the police were some crude, homemade hypodermic needles. Lt. Porter commented that considering the equipment and the conditions under which drugs were administered, "it's a wonder there hasn't been a rash of hepatitis cases in the community."

CONSOLIDATION?
Borough Meets State: What's the next step? The first session Tuesday afternoon when Borough Council and Mayor Henry S. Paterson met with two representatives of the state's Department of Community Affairs to talk about Borough Township consolidation.

The report released by the state in June doesn't really get us over the hump of the last problem," commented Mayor Paterson, when he announced the meeting with the state at his Tuesday morning press conference.

The mayor speculated that state experts might be able to indicate, in a general way, what savings could be made through consolidation. State representatives who met with Borough officials were Richard Kievey and Herbert Rosen.

Mayor and Council hope to decide by next Tuesday whether to take the next step and commission a more detailed study from the state, Mayor Paterson said.

ZONING CHANGE BACKED
Palmer House Approved for Guests: Princeton University last week was granted a conditional use permit from the Borough Zoning Board to convert Palmer House at 1 Bayard Lane, to a guest house for official visitors to the University.

The board also authorized a minor adjustment: an enclosed squash court was only seven and one-half feet away from the main building in stead of the required 10. Both were conditional, however, on the permanent closing of the front gate of the property at the corner of Bayard Lane and Nassau.

Entrance and exit will be at the former rear entrance, a few hundred yards down Bayard.

In the decision four board members found that the actual residential area in which the house is located is not primarily for single family dwellings and the proposed use was suitable. Indeed, as was pointed out later, Palmer House is the last single family home on both sides of Bayard between Nassau and Hodge Road.

The board also found the particular residence was well suited for the proposed use, that access to the house was adequate that traffic in the surrounding area would not be adversely affected and that the layout was in harmony with the surrounding area. Board member David L. Frothingham, a lawyer, removed himself from the case out of a possible conflict of interest.

Mastermind of 28 Guests: Jon D. Hlifter, director of physical planning for the university, told the board that a maximum of 28 visitors could be housed in seven double and six single bedrooms on the second and third floors. A resident manager and his wife would live in an apartment on the first floor.

Tax Free? Things were proceeding among Mr. Hlifter and attorney Frank P. Reiche until board member Albert Hanks asked if the property would be tax free, as are most of the University buildings. And although the board's attorney Lowell F. Curran pointed out that this was a tax, not a zoning matter and therefore not within the province of the board to consider, the question produced the most animated talk of the night.

Mr. Reiche admitted that the university's seeking a possible tax exemption was "under consideration," but both he and John Moran, business manager for the university, emphasized that "no decision has been made yet."

If the university were to seek tax relief, it would do so under a formula where it would be phased out after 10 years, Mr. Reiche commented. He added that the university paid taxes on Lowrie House and the university undoubtedly would take this into consideration in making its decision.

Ironically, the university obtained Lowrie House — 83 Sisonet Street, the present residence of President Goheen — in March, 1960 from Barbara Armour Lowrie for use as a guest house by a non-profit educational institution on the condition that the property remain on the Borough tax rolls.

$1,000 a Year. Palmer House was assessed for $7,200 (50% valuation in 1964) and yearly taxes on the property, which the Borough tax office estimated would cost $195,000 to buy.

Today, are $4,965.06. However, the university would pay only the minimum portion of $1,002 upon the door into tax to come. The larger bites go to pay off the county and school taxes. Pal House, 112 feet by 48 feet, making a precedent of feet, is more than 50 percent this in future cases. He also smaller than Lowrie House commented that the extension which measures, 120 by 100 of the campus across Nassau Street had "serious implications." It's up part of your decision," he said.

The issue raised was whether the University might decide the function of Palmer House to be closer to an educational than a residential one or close enough that it would apply for tax relief.

"The attorney for the University has emphasized the residential bearing of this property," said Borough Councilman Charles Conforth, speaking as a private citizen. The University has claimed this is a residence. I'm interested because if in the future the university tries to claim tax exemption.

Council member Robert Hendry, speaking "as a citizen and taxpayer," asked Robert Swann, owner of the Peacock Inn, across Bayard Lane, opposed the request, saying that any dissolution of the zoning law ought to be discouraged. Pointing out that some of my revenue is derived from the very guests Mr. Reich has described," he added. "If I have a non-commercial competitor across the street, I say he should pay taxes, too, since my commercial property generates taxes and licensing fees."

"If Princeton University were to move the U-Store across from Hamberger's I'm sure Ham's would fight just as much as I am."

Bellevue's Expansion Okayed: Bellevue's application to build a 3,000 square foot addition in the rear of its 6,000 square-foot apparel shop at 210 Nassau Street was approved. The expansion would cover the entire rear lot at 6 Moore Street on which the store's "Tree House" is presently located.

The board recommended to Mayor and Council that a existing, non-conforming use be permitted on the condition that four upstairs apartments be maintained. Bellevue had originally planned to remove a center staircase and leave the apartments vacant.

If the use variance is granted by Mayor and Council, then the board will, in turn, grant the necessary parking and loading variances. It noted that parking was an exceptional situation in the case and presented practical difficulties for the owner.

The proposed expansion would be non-conforming because it would exceed the maximum 10,000 square-foot limit.

which is allowed in the central business district in which Bellows is located. The CB zone permits only small retail and specialty stores. Under a formula used by the zoning board, Bellows must include some 6,000 square feet of basement space used for storage in its aggregate retail space.

Board chairman Robert Sullivan reported the board had received letters from seven women favoring the expansion. Mrs. Anne E. McQuade, 12 Moore Street, opposed it. In her letter to the board, she said the resultant increased commercial traffic would lower the value of her property. Bellows was represented by attorney A. C. Reeves Hicks. Mrs. Milla Gibbons, 217 Nassau Street, was granted permission to place a 200-inch directional sign on the front of her building at 217 Nassau Street. The sign will replace a similar 72-inch sign — the maximum allowed by zoning. She had applied for one measuring 120 square inches. Mrs. Gibbons, who operates the Appari School of Dance in the rear, told the board she needed the larger sign to clear up the confusion that arose after she rented the front of 217 this September to commercial photographer John Apai. "Delete the two r's from Appari and you have his name," she said.

Red Cross Withdraws. The application of the Red Cross to move its headquarters from University Place to 7 Madison Street was withdrawn in a letter to the board. Samuel Lambert, attorney for the Red Cross wrote: "After a discussion among the board members, it was decided that a charitable organization such as the Red Cross should not attempt to establish itself in a residential neighborhood where there was substantial resistance."

The zoning board will not meet in August. Its next meeting will be September 25.

BOARD TO MEET

On Future School Site. A public referendum on purchase of land for a possible future school will be the chief agenda item next Tuesday when the Princeton Regional School Board meets.

The meeting, re-scheduled from July so that as many board members as possible can attend, will be held at 8 p.m. in Community Park School.

Board members will vote on a resolution authorizing the referendum. The proposed date for the public vote is September 23 of this year.

Voters will be asked to decide whether the board should spend $226,000 for about 25 acres of land on Snowden Lane. Board members emphasize that the land will be held as the site for a possible future school. There are no plans to build there now, and board members do not regard construction of a Snowden school as more important than solving the problem of a new high school.

The board feels it's only common sense to acquire a piece of suitable land when it's on the market," said William Evans, secretary to the board. "In a few years, the price could be absolutely prohibitive."

LOSES LICENSE 180 DAYS. For Speeding, Reckless Driving. Frank P. Rossi, 17, 23 Pierson Avenue, had his license revoked for 180 days and was fined $10 for speeding and reckless driving Monday in Borough court by Judge Theodore T. Lams Jr.

Rossi was charged by State Police with driving on Washington Road at speeds up to 85 miles an hour. He pleaded not guilty and was fined $35.

Pt. William Hunter charged him with reckless driving for traveling at the same speed on Nassau Street at 2:30 in the morning. He pleaded guilty to the latter charge and was fined another $55.

In other cases, David G. Benson, 18, Province Line Road, was fined $15 for careless driving, and Paul Esposito, 19, 9 Harris Road, was fined $10 for discharging passengers other than at the curb. Mr. Esposito also paid $10 for having no driver's license in his possession.

News Of The CHURCHES

PLANNING AHEAD
For Christmas in Vietnam and early June, men, women and occasionally children have been wrapping Christmas gifts in the Trinity Church parish house on Wednesday. The gifts are being shipped to Da Nang in South Vietnam for distribution at Christmas to unhit troops in the field.

Mrs. Richard S. Fowler and Mrs. Thomas Allop are co-chairmen of the project. The year it was begun four years ago by friends of Mrs. Charles W. Caldwell of Princeton who is a volunteer with the RED RIBBON BRIGADE: Nearly 5,000 Christmas gifts for servicemen in Vietnam are on their way by ship for storage at USO in Da Nang. Above, as the first shipment was picked up at Trinity Church are (from left) Mrs. Richard S. Fowler, chairman of volunteers; Mrs. John C. Van Cleave, Mrs. Thomas Allop, co-chairman; Marjorie Agui, Michael D. Todd and Melvin Compton Jr.

USO in Vietnam for nearly three years. Although space provided for the workshop by Trinity Church, the project is non-church sponsored and representatives of all local denominations are among the volunteers.

Mrs. Caldwell, Lucy Bahy in the year. Marjorie Agui came into the China Beach (A) near Da Nang — is home now helping to spark the project which last year provided more than a quarter of a million red ribboned packages to the troops. The gifts are distributed to men in all branches of the service in the order chosen by the commanding general.

Something Special. According to Mrs. Caldwell, who is expected to return to Vietnam in the late fall, each package contains some interesting, some amusing articles and at least one special present.

The gift package is "a touch of home to thousands of servicemen who might otherwise have wandered just who cared." General Lewis W. Wall, assistant commandant of the U. S. Marine Corps, wrote earlier this year to Mrs. Sydney G. Stevens, one of the original volunteers for "Christmas in Vietnam."

"If you think we have rain here," Mrs. Caldwell said recently, "you should be in one of those monsoons. Tire repair kits are great for keeping brakes out of our mattresses, boots and ponchos."

The most unlikely item requested by some of the fighting men? "Picked pigs' feet!" Mr. Caldwell answers promptly. "Is she sending any?" Ah, yes, I've wrapped some in a red Terry cloth bath towel and they'll be on their way."

Packages might also contain playing cards, write home tapes, small flashlights, small pen brushes "for cleaning M&M's, paperback books, games, candles, pens and letter paper.

The volunteers working Wednesday afternoon and even on, have helped either purchase gift items, wrap and box them or keep the detailed records which verify that all packages reach their destination. Last year, not one was lost on the long trip between Princeton and the USO in Vietnam.

Many items are donated. Others are purchased through funds given to the committee.

The packing goes on, and all volunteers are welcome. Any check about one for gifts may be made out for Trinity Church, "Christmas in Vietnam," Princeton, N. J. 4.

Sneak preview of next year's Volkswagen sedan.

If you just bought this year's VW sedan, congratulations.

Next year nobody will know you're not driving next year's VW sedan.

Because next year's beetle will look like this year's beetle. (What else?) And every other beetle we've ever made.

So it will be just as hard to tell a 20-year-old VW from a brand new VW.

Buying a car that doesn't go out of style has still another benefit: you don't take a beating when you sell it.

AWV depreciates very slowly.

But even though next year's Volkswagen won't be different, it will be different.

We've made some nice improvements. As usual. (Over 2200 since 1949.)

So in next year's VW you can look forward to a new ——— and a bigger ——— and a different ———

Well, you wouldn't want to give away all our little secrets, would you?

What kind of sneak preview would that be?

BUSINESS In Princeton

MORT BARISH MOVES

To New Quarters. For the fifth time in ten years, Mort Barish Associates, Inc., the technical advertising/sales promotion/public relations agency, has had to move to larger quarters.

The agency has moved from offices on Chambers Street to a larger 25-man facility in Research Park, just opposite Princeton Airport. The new offices include a five-man art department, a photo studio and complete offices for copy, public relations, sales promotion, production and traffic.

Mort Barish Associates serves clients in computers, microwaves and ultrasonics, as well as electronics, chemicals, machinery, medical, diagnostic, laboratory, lubricant and other technical market areas. The agency now has over 30 clients with capitalized billings in excess of $5,000,000, and is regarded as one of the largest specialized technical advertising agencies in the country.

NEW PRESIDENT ELECTED

At Wengel Corporation. Douglas A. Wengel has been elected president of Wengel Service Corporation. Arthur R. Wengel, the former president, has assumed the new position of chairman of the board. Wengel Service Corp., Princeton-based firm furnishes computer programming and other computer services to clients in New Jersey and adjoining states.

A graduate of Princeton High School where he was N.J. High School half-mile champion, Douglas Wengel graduated from Princeton University in 1958. His post graduate work was completed at Carnegie Institute of Technology.

He completed fifteen IBM courses ranging from computer systems concepts through advanced systems and programming techniques. He is experienced in second and third generation computer systems, programming, and operations. He has managed data processing for Wengel Service since 1964 and has been involved with marketing, systems, programming, and operations. Mr. Wengel is also vice president of Princeton Printing Company.

FIRM INCORPORATES

National Keyboard Arts, The National Keyboard Arts Associates, Inc., located at Research Park, has been incorporated as of July 1. Elected to the board of directors were: David Kraehenbuehl, President; Richard Chronicle, vice president; Thomas MacLean, treasurer; and David Loecker, secretary.

The firm, which has been operating in Princeton since 1967, is involved in the research and development of piano education methods and materials. These methods have been tested by various educators throughout the U.S. and Canada. Locally, a pilot program is being conducted at St. Ann School in Lawrenceville and at the Settlement Music Schools in Philadelphia.

RASE TEN TO EXPAND

Will Acquire Trenton Firm. Base Ten Systems, Inc., designers and producers of telemetry systems for government, aerospace and industrial measurement programs, has reached an agreement in principle to acquire Rem Machine Products, Inc., Trenton, manufacturers of precision machine products and printed circuits.

The acquisition, expected to be consummated shortly, will be made for an undisclosed number of Base Ten common shares. Rem will join Base Ten as a wholly-owned autonomous subsidiary.

Base Ten is presently seeking to broaden its technology in instrumentation problems in such areas as automotive testing, pollution control, and power plant telemetry.

Miss Ernestine M. Morse, 46 years old, Prof. Marston H. Morse, 47, and their three children, are the family of Prof. Morse, director of the Division of Cancer in Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston. She is a member of the photographic research division of the Polaroid Corporation. Her husband is a professor at Tufts University in Waterville, Me. He was a member of the ROTC with College in 1945 and is now working at Polaroid in Cambridge. He has been highly recognized for his research since 1948 of the research laboratory which has been designated as the black and white photo graphic processes.

Her work is also cited in a large number of U.S. Patents in which she was either sole joint inventor. The patents are among the most important held by the company. In May 1969, she became a fellow of the Society of Photographic Scientists and Engineers, the first woman to be elected.

In 1968, Smith College presented her the Outstanding Graduate Award, for her research, her leadership and her community involvement. She also is a member of the board of trustees of the Cambridge Reformatory House, where she taught children's art and geography courses. Last year, she was volunteer for the Cambridge Clearing House, serving as a counselor.

Miss Morse was an accomplished harpist as well as an artist. She worked extensively to encourage and support any young artists and photographers.

John J. Burns, 62, the Great Road, died suddenly July 3 in Princeton Hospital. He was a professional horseman and riding instructor. A Princeton resident since 1950.

She is survived by her father, Prof. Marston Morse of the Institute for Advanced Study; her mother, Mrs. Celeste Osmond of Oaset, Mass.; three brothers, Dr. Dryden P. Morse of Moorestown; Peter F. Morse of Princeton and William M. Morse of New Haven, Conn.

son, and three sisters, Mrs. George Dix of Princeton; Mrs. Daniel Reardon of Hanover, N. J., and Miss Louise Morse of Princeton.

No funeral was held. Memorial contributions may be made to the Radiation Therapy

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Claire M. Burns; a son, John, and a daughter, Lisa, both at home; two brothers, George M. of Far Hills and James of South Plainfield.

Richard E. Young, 64, of 1 Princeton Avenue, Rocky Hill, died August 3 in Princeton hospital following a heart attack. He was nationally known in the field of aeronautical engineering, having originated the first patent techniques which are used to produce cast filament wound strokers.

Mr. Young was the founder and former president of the Young Development Laboratories of Rocky Hill, which was later acquired by the Hercules Powder Company. Born in Milan, Mich., he attended the University of Michigan and served as a consulting engineer for many firms.

He was a member of the City of Experimental Test pilots, the National Pilots Association, the Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association, the United Birdmen Flying Club of New Jersey, Wings Club of New York, Nassau Club of Princeton, the New York Zoological Society and the American Museum of Natural History.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Florence E. Young; three daughters, Mrs. Mary Jane Brishia of Massillon, O.; Mrs. Kay Tichenor of Piedmont, Ala.; and Mrs. Mary E. Young of Columbus, Ga.

nt, Calif., and Mrs. Melvin Frazier of Berkeley, Calif.; brother, Robert Young of Chmond, Va.; three sisters, Mrs. Margaret MacNail of Northam, Mass.; Mrs. Elizabeth Bringleine of Seattle, Wash.; and Mrs. Betty Adams of Jackson, Mich., and eight grandchildren.

The service was held in the Father Funeral Home, with interment in Rocky Hill Cemetery.

Dr. Harry H. Eckstein, 94 MacLean Circle, has been named first incumbent of the newly established IBM Fellowship in Foreign and International Affairs at Princeton University, where he has taught since 1959.

The gift to Princeton of the IBM Corporation, the chairman has been made possible by a grant of $50,000 to Princeton's major program for academic development, calling for immediate dollar reimbursement in such areas as urban studies, foreign and international studies, life sciences, the University Library, Afro-American studies, co-education, and computer-related subjects.

Having taught at Harvard and a former Fellow in the Center for Advanced Study in the Behavioral Sciences at Stanford, Calif., Dr. Eckstein was appointed full professor of politics at Princeton in 1961. Two years later he was designated a McCosh Fellow, one of the highest distinctions the University awards in recognition of distinguished teaching and research.

Dr. Bruce McClellan, head master of the Lawrenceville School, has been appointed 13th vice-president of the Middle Sex Somerset Mercer Regional School Council, to fill the unexpired term of Arthur N. Curtis, Jr., of RCA, who remains a member of the council.

Dr. McClellan, who has been a member of the Board of Directors of the council since its inception in 1968, continues to serve as chairman of the council's comprehensive planning committee. He also becomes a member of the executive committee of the council. He has been head master of Lawrenceville School since 1964. Previously he had served as a member of the Education Department. A former Rhodes Scholar, Dr. McClellan was educated at Deerfield Academy, Williams College, and New College, Oxford.

Dr. William Pollack, Suite 200, Belle Mead, has been named a vice-president and member of the Board of Directors of Ortho and promoted to director of diagnostic research at Ortho Research Foundation in Raritan.

Born in England and educated both there and in the United States, Dr. Pollack joined Ortho Research Foundation in 1964 and had been serving as associate director of diagnostic research. He is a codirector of Ortho diagnostic preventive for Rh hemolytic disease of the newborn, and serves on the medical faculties of Columbia and Temple Universities.

James Schaeffer, 10 Bradburn Drive, has been elected a vice-president and associate executive director of Marshalk Co. Advertising, a subsidiary of Interpublic Group.

A native of Philadelphia, he is a graduate of the Philadelphia College of Art. Before coming to Marshalk, he was associated with J. Walter Thompson Inc. In 1962 he joined Marshalk's Cleveland office and came to the New York office as senior art director in 1965.

Gummers, Miss Seaman and Robert H. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman W. Miller, Dutchtown Road, Belle Mead, is serving aboard the aircraft carrier USS Saratoga, now en route to the Mediterranean.

"WE'VE GIVEN THEM
EVERYTHING . . .
HAVEN'T WE?"

The best schooling, good clothes, a comfortable home . . . all these are important.

But don't they need answers to the big questions—such as Who is God? What is God? Where is God? What does He have to do with me?

Your children's sense of security and lasting happiness may well depend on being given good and useful answers to these important questions.

In the Christian Science Sunday School, children learn to know God, to feel a closeness to Him, and to turn to Him for the spiritual resources they need to strengthen and enrich their lives.

Isn't this something you would like to give your children? Why not bring them next Sunday morning at

DISPUTE UNRESOLVED
Among Coaches. School Board. With less than a month before the September 14 start of the football season, in dispute between the Princeton High School coaches and the Board of Education remains unresolved.

Richard Wood, head of the coaches' association and lead football coach, reported that two punter remain outstanding (1) the coaches' insistence that the athletic director, Joseph Dettl, or included in any settlement and (2) their request that a team equipment man be added to the staff.

Mr. Wood admitted the coaches have not submitted names to the acting principal, Florence Burke, for assignment as requested. "We didn't feel we should submit any names they haven't thought of us to even contact us," he said. "We still have and we won't work until these issues are resolved."

Norman Van Arsdalen has been named by School Superintendent Philip McPherson as responsible for the sports and physical educational program in the entire school system for grades K through 12. Mr. Van Arsdalen is to act as the superintendent's personal representative during the dispute. Mr. Wood stated.

TENNIS BEATS RAIN
By Moving Indoors. The Mercer County Indoor Tennis Center a remodeled hangar had to default in the first round because of illness.

Ratio a Constant Factor. Beginning with another rainy day, more than 30 Princeton junior players have been traveling back and forth this week to compete in the Trenton Junior Championships. Again, the Mercer County Indoor Tennis Center and its organizing pro, Bill Stoner, saved the day by making the indoor courts at the County Airport available.

Next week will see the tournament group go to Allentown, Penna. for the Lehigh Valley District Championships, and the following week to Philmont Country Club outside Philadelphia for the Eastern Pennsylvania Championship. Any one interested in trying blanks or in arranging car pools for these last two events should contact Karen Fitzpatrick, Rowland, 924-2190, or see Joe Dielenbach.

The Princeton players did well in a strong field of top ranked participants from many states. Ellen Fisher of Allentown, Pa., won the girls' singles, defeating Brad Brainard of New Hope and Andrew Dodge of Lancaster, 6-4, 6-3.

Others who stood out were Randy Golick and Kris Shoemaker, who reached the semi-finals of their respective age divisions. Darren Hicks was a semi-finalist and Randy Golick was awarded a silver plate donated by the Pepsi-Cola Company to the player exhibiting the best sportsmanship. The Committee felt that many could have won the award for sportsmanship in what was deemed the best he have 12 and 14 event Princeton has ever sponsored.

Results of the finals: Boys 12 singles: Pat Halpin of Tampa, Florida, ousted fellow Princeton, Rick Good, 6-2, 7-5. The two Florida players then teamed to win the Boys 12 doubles, defeating Brad Brainard of New Hope and Andrew Dodge of Lancaster, 6-4, 6-3.

The Boys 14 singles was won by nationally ranked Davis Henley of Houston, who eliminated Todd Landy of State College, Pa., 6-2, 6-0. Henley then met Landy again in the Boys 14 doubles. Henley's partner was Princeton's Robbie Kraft and Landy's was David Kay of Wilmington, Del. Kay and Landy emerged the victors, 8-10, 7-5, 6-2.

The Girls 12 singles was won by Michele Tobin of Wilmington, Del. Michele defeated Annabelle Brainard of New Hope, 6-1, 6-0.

The Girls 14 singles featured a match between Cathy Greaney of Cynwyd, Pa. and Cindy Johnson of Spring Lake, Conn. won, 6-2, 6-3. Cathy Greaney was also a doubles finalist, with her partner Lynn Keith of New Wales. In a hard fought encounter, they defeated Ellen Fisher and Darren Hicks of Princeton, 6-1, 6-1. Two Still with Giants Dick Sandler and Tim McCann, members of the 1984 Princeton football team who signed as free agents with the New York Giants, have survived the first two cuts made by Coach Alie Sherman. Inasmuch as no further squad reductions are required of NFL teams until September 1, there is a possibility that the two Trenton alumni will return to Palmer Stadium for the Giants' Eagles game on August 30. McCann, who has put on 20 pounds in the last 12 months and now weighs 205, is a defensive tackle. Sandler is trying out as a linebacker. Although both have impressed the Giant staff in the early going sufficiently to continue on the roster, the chance of free agents actually making the final squad of 40 players is considered to be as high as 100 to 1.

EAGLES GRAB PBA LEAD
With One Week Remaining
Rainouts played hob with the PBA Baseball League last week but by the time the last infield puddle had dried, the Eagles had broken away from a four way tie for first place to sole possession of top spot. With one week to play in the league, the Eagles have a 10-2 record, one game ahead of second place Sportsmen (9-3) and two ahead of the only other two contenders, Engine No. 3 and Post 76. Both are tied for third with 8-4 marks.

The Eagles shut out Engine No. 3, 13-0, behind the no-hit pitching of Joe Herrmann and also blanked the Elks, 6-0. They picked up another victory when they won their protested game with Roma Eterna, 6-0.

Engine Co. 1 split two games. It won its second of the year, 11-5, over Hook & Ladder, as Bub Bauman went the distance on the mound, striking out 10. Silberman also knocked in four runs with a pair of singles and a double. Jim LaPlaca and Mike Boccanfuso each were credited with two RBIs, the latter going 2 for 2.

Tony Ferrara, a double, and Andy Bolster, two singles, led the losers in hitting.

No. 1 then lost to Engine No. 3, 7-6, in extra innings. Nine-year old George Brush, who allowed just two runs in five innings of relief pitching, walked in the winning run with two down and 3-2 count on the batter. Justin Leuper had singled in the inning to start the rally.

Dave and Mike Shillaber accounted for six of No. 3's 10 hits, while Robert "Tyke" Davison, and Mike Bauman shared the pitching. Larry Howell, Silverman and Boccanfuso all had extra base hits for No. 1.

In other games, Post 76 stopped Roma Eterna, 3-1, and the Sportsmen defeated the Elks and Post 76. There will be three league all-star games this week. The Princeton Motor Lodge 11-and-12 year old all-stars were scheduled to play the Hamilton Americans this Wednesday evening at 8 at the FAAC Field in Trenton. Saturday afternoon at 2, the Motor Lodge 10-year old stars will meet the Levittown, Pa. stars at Van Horn Field in Hamilton Township.

On Sunday at 3, the Berncliff 8-year old all-stars meet the Hamilton Americans at Yardville's Ponia Field in the first round of the Sunnybrae Tournament.

RAIN CURTAINS GAMES
In Business Softball League. Last week's steady downpour washed out all but two of the scheduled games in the Business Softball League. The postponed contests will be made up on future dates before the season ends.

In the games played, RCA A knocked Columbian Carbon out of its second place tie with the winners, with a 3-2 triumph. The winning tally came in the seventh on hits by John Meyer and Frank Becher, an error, and a sacrifice fly by Reggie Bentivoglio. Phil Moody scored two runs.

Carbon is now 9-4, while RCA A moved up to 10-3, a half game behind the leader RCA. RCA will meet the leaders the last week of the season.

In the other game, Princeton won its fifth game against seven losses, drubbing Don Jones, 10-4. Bob Elkins had three hits for the winners, while Bob Daunas, Mike Paglione and Chip O'Brien chipped in with two apiece. Frank Panchella and Ray Chornell had seven hits between them for the losers.

HOCKEY SCHEDULE SET
Tigers to Play 24 Games. A game schedule that includes ten contests in Baker Rink has been planned for Princeton's hockey team. A highlight of the season will be the Tigers' first participation in the Great Lakes Invitational Tournament at Detroit, in which they will join Michigan State, Michigan Tech and New Hampshire.

Middy Tighman, goalie for the past two seasons, will captain the team, which opens its season with a tough road trip, gaining Boston College and Boston University on December 5 and 6. The first game at home is set three days later against Army.

Twelve of the games will be played against Ivy League opponents, the first with Brown on January 10. As it has for the past three or four years, defending champion Cornell will close out the Princeton season, coming to Baker Rink on March 7.

TWO NEWCOMERS ADDED

To Hun Football Schedule. The Hun School will open its 1969 football season October 4 with a new coach and two new faces on its schedule.
Princeton assistant Dave Leele has taken over the head coaching duties from Hawley Water. Leele's development of time to his position as athletic director. The newcomers on the schedule are Admiral Farragut, against which Hun will open its season at home and Valley Forge Military Academy.

Gone are Germantown Friends and Friends Central. Hun former Penn. Jersey opponents, the two schools have dropped the sport from their athletic program. As in the past, Hun will play six Penn. Jersey League opponents: Perkasie, Princeton Day School, Solebury, Academy of New Church (Bryn. Athyn), George School and Pennington. Previously a non-league opponent, PHS is now a member of the league.

The team will be captained by Mike Maguire and Steve Peters. Peters is a halfback, while Maguire, a Princeton resident, has been the starting quarterback for the past two years. Leele said, however, used this year as a flanker.

The schedule: Oct. 4, Admiral Farragut; 11, Perkasie, away; 18, Princeton Day School; 24, Solebury, away; Nov. 1, Valley Forge, away; 7, Academy of New Church; away; 15, George School; 22, Pennington, away.

HAMILTON UPSET

By West Windsor Team. A strong pitching performance by Joe DiMeglio, who gave up just one run and four hits, led West Windsor's Senior Babe Ruth team to a 3-1 upset win over previously unbeaten Hamilton last week.

West Windsor could manage three hits, all singles, by Gary Tuth, Jim Cavin and Jeff Haring. Haring drove in the winning run in the fifth with a long sacrifice fly to second. Tuth, the victory lifted West Windsor to a 3-1 mark in Mercer County League play, while Hamilton dropped to 4-1.

MRS. WHELAN WINNER Of Mercer County Championship. Mrs. Betty Whelan, winner of the Springdale Golf Club Ladies' Championship many times, captured the Mercer County title last week at the Mountain View Golf Club.
Mrs. Whelan fired an 80, one stroke better than Mrs. Keith Rosser of the Hopewell Valley Country Club. Mrs. Joyce Altman, also of Hopewell, finished third with 82.

LUCAR WINS TITLE

In W. Windsor League. A four run rally in the final inning tied and another rally in the first extra inning gave Lucar Hardware an 8-7 triumph over MacKenzie Realty last week and the championship in the second half of the West Windsor Babe Ruth League. This Lucar, which also won the 1st ball crown, captured the overall season championship.

Larry Fowler was the winning pitcher for Lucar, and earlier in the week had batted and well's Shell, 3-0, on a two out by Kevin Tyson. John Schumacher pitched the Lucar hitting attack by pounding out a triple and two doubles.

In the only other game played during the final week, the Lions Club scored a 10-1 win over MacKenzie on a two hitter by Dennis Clark. Tim Moran had three hits for the winners, while Clark had a pair of singles and Dave Zapren, added a double.

scholarships to about 30 third and fourth graders.
These aren't only low income kids, but kids whose families couldn't quite find enough money for summer tennis.
Gym teachers recommended that their parents be wholly involved, and with make-up classes to schedule, registration to complete, and even with our fine clinics," explains Mrs. Kraft, "we didn't feel we were reaching the whole community, and this response of 30 kids has been great! Next year, we want to keep these 30 and add 30 more."

Overall, about 500 children have been in this year's tennis classes. Plus several hundred adults.
You can't begin tennis until third grade, if you're a boy, or fourth grade, if you're a girl. Co-ordination is the reason for the sex differential.
That, and hoping you can hook a boy on tennis before he goes back on baseball, but Mrs. Kraft won't admit that.
Some of her best friends are baseball players.)

I like to Read. Sedentary times, meanwhile, go to the library. Or even active types who've been rained out. John Counts, who moves in and out of school libraries, running things generally, says that is the best year ever for summer library attendance.
School libraries are open one day a week on a rotating basis, so that each school library or other is always open, and on that single day, about 40 books are checked out from each library.

Littlebrook, Riverside and John Witherspoon are the libraries where the action is,
Mr. Counts says.

"Everything we've done has been swamped!" is the enthusiastic comment of Librarian Robert Staples at the city-conditioned Public Library.
Mr. Counts' Monday evening story hour, not ending drew 50-75 kids each week.
Pre - kindergarteners, 30-35 strong, storm the doors each Wednesday at picture-book time.

Intermediate youngsters are invited each Tuesday at 2:30 for a film — maybe an exciting mystery story — and their younger siblings can come on Thursdays at 2:30.

Scrabble, checkers, picture puzzles and chess are great favorites at the library. A family of four spent a happy evening over Scrabble not long ago, and teen boys are always playing chess and listening to records.

Tuesday evening is family film night at the library. Next Tuesday, it's "Malcolm X".
Struggle for Freedom."

A Real Play. Theatre for the young is next at Summer Intime, on the University campus. "The Knave of Hearts," this Sunday and Monday at 2:30 will present a costume drama in which it turns out that the famous thief of the royal tarls can't be laid to the notorious Knave of Hearts at all. But we won't reveal the plot.

Tickets may be reserved by calling 952-9181. Prices are $2.50 for adults and $1 for

GAMBLING RAID STAGED
Princeton Man Arrested. One of the County residents was arrested Tuesday when simulated raids on places suspected of being used for gambling were staged in four separate locations.
The Princetonian taken in to custody was Eugene L.
Cookson, 43, identified as a Princeton resident, who was arrested at the Inn dormitory, 115
Alexander Street.
Arrests were also made in Trenton at four locations, and at two in Hamilton Township in Ewing Township.
In some cases, doors were battered down to obtain entrance.

About 40 State Police and members of the State Organized Crime Unit launched the operation about 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. In a number of the places they entered, state troops took over the phones and answered the incoming calls from those placing bets on horses or in lotteries.

One of the officers in charge of the raids said that in some of the places they took over, his men could not keep up with the volume of bets being made.
It was estimated that in the two to three hours while police were in charge, efforts were made to place "thousands and thousands of dollars" in wagers.

The raids climaxed month-long investigation of the locations under suspicion. Raiders were armed with search warrants issued by Judge Frank Kinnick.

ZONERS' APPROVAL GIVEN
To Research Center Plans.
Another pharmaceutical firm has found the gently rolling, residential acreage in this area to its liking, and has won a recommendation of approval from the Homeview Township Zoning Board to build a $3-4 million research and processing center on Bear Tavern Road.

Like E. T. Squibb & Sons, which picked out a site zoned residential on Route 206 in Lawrence Township, Pittman-Moore, Inc., a veterinary, biological and pharmaceutical company, selected the 245-acre farm of John E. Postley near Madock Road — zoned two-family residential. A subsidiary of Johnson & Johnson, the company is now located in Fort Washington, Pa.

The board's recommendation of approval for a special exemption permit and a variance was unanimous, and its decision is now forwarded to Hopewell Township Committee for final action, possibly at its meeting next Thursday, Aug.
10.

Reminiscent of the heated battles over the Squibb application, more than 100 persons crowded into the township's municipal building to speak both for and against the company's plans, with opinions about evenly divided.

Pittman-Moore plans three buildings on the tract, two small ones housing administrative offices and a research lab, and the third and largest a processing plant for the manufacture of the veterinary phar-maceuticals. These would be located about 400 feet from the road.

The firm hopes to tie into the Ewing-Lawrence Township sewer system and will build its own lines and pumping station to this end. It has already reached an agreement to buy water from the City of Trenton.

BLOCK DANCE PLANNED

News Of The Churches
four public programs to be presented this month by the Seminary's summer language program.
Pastor of the Shiloh Baptist Church, Trenton, since 1942, the Rev. Mr. Woodson has served as president of the Council of Churches of Great or Trenton, the board of directors of the Carver YMCA and the Trenton Chapter of the NAACP.

His proposed urban renewal program, to be sponsored by Shiloh Baptist Church, involves some 23 acres of land in that neighborhood. The project, now part of the Urban Demonstration Cities program for Trenton, will provide approximately 800 units of moderate and middle income housing.

MISSIONARY TO SPEAK
On New Guinea. The Rev.
Robert A. Holst, who has served as chairman of the New Guinea Lutheran Mission
Committee on Evangelism, Wahag, will discuss "Independence, Nationalism and the Gospel in New Guinea" at 7:30 p.m. this Thursday in the Campus Center auditorium of Princeton Seminary.
The Rev. Mr. Holst has published an adult literary book and a literary book in the Tipli language, translations into Tipli of Luther's Small Catechism, I Timothy, I John and 100 New Testament stories, as well as articles in "Seminarian" and "The International Review of Missions."

He has served as an evangelistic missionary and English school teacher of the Pawali circuit and as executive secretary of the Commission of Theological Education of the Lutheran churches and missions in New Guinea. A native of New Guinea, he holds B.A., B.D., and S.T. degrees from Concordia Seminary and is studying for the degree of Doctor of Theology at Princeton Seminary.

The lecture is one of four public presentations sponsored by the Seminary's summer program in languages.

BULLETIN NOTES

A GRACEFUL COUNTRY HOUSE

On three acres adjoining the grounds of the Belens Brook Country Club, just minutes from town in the heart of our most beautiful countryside. Designed by one of Princeton's best-known architects and solidly built some years ago, it would perfectly suit a family of four or five. Up a few broad steps from the entrance hall, there's a large living room with fireplace whose high ceiling is framed in massive oak beams; a many windowed dining room; and big, cheerful, modern kitchen. Off by itself, a cozy paneled study with second fireplace enjoys a sweeping view of woods and meadow through floor-to-ceiling windows. Maid's room, bath, and powder room complete the ground floor, while upstairs, there are three double bedrooms and two baths. The entire living area of the house opens to an encircling flagstone terrace with barbecue basement and attic for storage. Two-car garage $79,500

HOUGHTON REAL ESTATE

WESTERN BOROUGH BUILDING SITE
Build an elegant townhouse on one of the very last pieces of land available in Princeton's Western Borough. Your house will nestle under fine old trees and will be protected by tall hedges on two sides of this over-half-acre property. The price sounds high, but since vacant land in our best neighborhood is almost non-existent, the cost is realistic and actually a very good opportunity either for building or as an investment.

PROFESSIONAL PAINTING PAYS!
... IN MANY WAYS

Princeton 924-1474

FOR YOUR FUTURE . . . An ideal home if yours is a growing family! Five bedrooms, three baths. On a quiet cul-de-sac close enough to nursery school so that it's safe for your youngest to walk. Even if you aren't planning to move now, perhaps you'd like to know what's available. Call any time, we'd be delighted to show you this fine home.

LIKE A LITTLE PRIVACY? Here's a darling home exactly suited to a romantic couple. Almost hidden behind its trees and hedges as you drive by, you get a glimpse of its washed brick facade and a rugged shake roof that tells its story of quality and charm. Indoors, there's living room, dining room, and with beamed ceiling, music room, kitchen, and (upstairs) 4 bedrooms, 1 bath. $19,500

HORSES! . . . HORSES! . . . only a short drive from Princeton, here are 11 acres in a very nice, very hilly countryside. There's a big barn, too — a very solid structure that needs new siding, but is large enough for 4 box stalls and a tack room. The land is rolling, with many trees and shrubs, but it's not a forced you can really look over your own axes and enjoy the view. The old farm house has a sun porch and a large paneled living room, a great big modern kitchen, bedroom and bath on the first floor. Upstairs, there is now a large apartment, with its own entrance, which brings in more than enough to pay taxes, but which could easily be changed back into 4 bedrooms and bath. $51,500

ONLY 10 MINUTES from Princeton, on one-and-a-half beautifully landscaped acres, this long, low, spacious home was designed to make living in the country a real pleasure. Living and dining rooms are large & airy, and any housewife will envy the owner of the marvelous kitchen, with lots of room for family breakfast and lunches. 3 big bedrooms, 2 full baths, a study (or 4th bedroom) 2 powder rooms. $68,900

FOR MODERN LIVING . . . central air-conditioning, of course, for comfort; a huge living room in a wing by itself, so that it's a place to live in, not a passageway; master bedroom, study and bath (for privacy) on the far side of the house, away from the children and their TV; a big kitchen so gleaming and modern that every housewife will yearn for it. Separate dining room with fireplace. A spacious family room with powder room, and 3 more bedrooms and bath. $69,500

GROWING FAMILY . . . Here is a sprawling one-story house on 2 1/2 acres with a real expansion alert — plenty of space to add 2 more bedrooms and a bath when it becomes necessary. present, the house has large (17'x30') living room, with fireplace, separate dining room, kitchen (17'x9'x14'), paneled study, a master bedroom 19'x15', two other bedrooms 14'x15', huge closets with many built-in drawers. Two full baths. The house has been converted into an extra kitchen, but could be a family room or 4th bedroom as there is a bathroom adjoining. $69,500

LAND
STUART HILL . . . Fabulous 2-acre building sites in the most desirable part of Princeton. This neighborhood appeals to people who dream of living in caves among lofty trees. All utilities isolated. 44 ACRES . . . near Pennington. Prime land for development. ½ acre zoning. 1450 feet of road frontage. We expect satisfactory appreciation in value when Interstate 95 is completed and crosses Route 31, about half a mile away.
BUILDING SITE . . . 480 acres of rolling land, with a view of trees and a brook at the back. 20 minutes from Princeton. $10,000
TWO-AND-A-HALF-ACRES . . . twenty minutes from town. 225' frontage. A very nice building site in beautiful rolling country. $9500

Many more fine homes in Princeton & vicinity in a wide range. Ample parking space for our clients.

HAVE YOU GOT A SECRET DESIRE?

(could it be one of these . . .)

BUILT OF STONE, ivy covered home in Princeton (2 blocks from Nassau Street and within walking distance of schools) is one of our favorites. On a beautiful lot, large lot with large trees, a brook, and lawns (includes separate lot for protection or future profit). It contains living room, with doors leading out to a charming stone patio, and fireplace with built-in bookcases on each side, Dining Area, a small but very efficient and attractive kitchen, Master Bedroom with walk-in closet and Bath on 1st floor, 1st stairs you have 2 smaller bedrooms and a Bath. A compact and thoroughly delightful home. $52,000

PRINCETON TOWNSHIP. This stucco Colonial offers you plenty of room. Listen to this: Living room with fireplace, formal Dining room, heated Sunroom, Master Bedroom with Bath and Den, Modern Quaker Maid Kitchen on first floor, 2nd floor features 3 large Bedrooms, Bath, and a second Kitchen (can easily be removed). Stairs to 3rd floor Family room, 2 car Garage. Beautifully landscaped and within walking distance to Princeton schools. A very exceptional buy at $59,900

A MANY SPLENDORIED THING. In one of Hopewell Township's most beautiful areas (3 miles from Princeton Twp. line) you will find this graceful and elegant Colonial on 1½ acres. Beamed ceilings and 3 fireplaces, one each in the Living room, Den, and Master Bedroom, give the interior that rustic warmth. A Dining room, 3 more double Bedrooms, 2½ Baths, and a modern, very well-equipped Quaker Maid Kitchen are just some more of the exceptionally well-designed features by Architect William Thompson. This is traditional old-world living at its best, in a house only $69,500.

SPLENDOR IN THE GRASS and all that treasured privacy you crave, we give you this unique home. Located in Princeton Township on 2 of the most beautifully landscaped acres, the artistry inherited in design and construction will impress you. It contains a vast, brick-floored, Living-Dining-Lounge Area with double fireplace, a brickwalled Study with skylight, Playroom, 6 Bedrooms and several charming patios and terraces all around. The most magnificent brickwork, inside and out, together with lots of glass, makes this contemporary one of the most unusual homes we have seen. $89,500
